Did We Live and Learn?

Sen. Bender observed in one of the speeches he will be making in his race for re-election that congressmen aren't impressed any more with bombardments of postcards, telegrams and letters - and that's encouraging.

About 20 years ago, when the New Deal was riding high and Congress was expected to give rubber-stamp approval to anything Corcoran, Cohen, Tugwell and their crew-cut cohorts wanted, bombarding Congress became a national pastime.

Members of labor unions, fraternal organizations and many other groups with the necessary discipline loosed tens of thousands of identical blasts at Washington on command. Postcards, for example, might be turned out in wheelbarrow lots by duplicating machines and dumped on groaning postal clerks in Washington. Some congressmen didn't know what to think until they opened their mail.

There was a strong conviction among some of the queer fish dredged up in the election overturns of the period that this was the way to run a representative democracy - to count the communications and vote accordingly.

It was tough going for old-timers who remembered that representative democracy aimed to get rid of government-by-clamor by delegating the power of decision to elected representatives. If Sen. Bender is right and all congressmen now know the difference between representative democracy and mod rule, the United States is making progress.

Academic Honors

We can yell as loud as any one else when a halfback swivel-hips through a broken field for a long gain. Our heart beats faster when a basketball hero has a big night and dumps in a dozen field goals. We think all athletic heroes are wonderful.

But the young men and women who win academic honors are our special favorites. No one yells for them, and they have no effect on the public blood pressure. But they are the true measure of what education can do when it is doing its best.

This is the season when academic honors are bestowed - quietly. There is no crowd in the stadium to see Johnny Jones acclaimed as an outstanding algebra student, no cheers when Susie Smith is taken into the National Honor Society, no mob scene when a modest kid gets the highest marks in his class.

Students who win scholarships and survive College Board Examinations to win acceptance by first-class colleges are never asked for autographs. Boys and girls who knock their brains out boning up for competitive tests usually go as unnoticed as the roses that blush unseen.

But they are the hope of this country and the hope of the world. If one comes your way, congratulations are in order, to make up for the cheers they never get a chance to hear.

Iron Curtain vs. Iron Head

It will dawn on our iron-headed statesmen 30 years toc late if it ever dawns at all, why the Soviet Union never misses a propaganda

The Kremlin seems to hold the high cards in the international game of influencing the other fellow because the United States insists on playing the propaganda game to lose, instead of to win.

Kremlin strategy in the winning of the Asiatic hordes and the malcontents of Europe now is geared to the doctrine that the Soviet Union is building a peaceful world.

This also is the doctrine of the United States. but the Asiatic hordes and the malcontented Europeans never have a chance to learn about it. The United States has let itself be misrepresented abroad as a sword-rattler intent on hastening an ideological Armageddon.

When the Kremlin pulls a propaganda coup like announcing a cut in its military forces. the United States officially retorts that it isn't going to be fooled; it rattles its sword, which is what the Kremlin knew it would do.

Of course it isn't going to be fooled. It is going to be prepared, just as the Soviet Union | was a hose cart, and this would is going to be prepared. But it wouldn't have be trundled to the fire by student cost a billion-it wouldn't have cost a dimeto have congratulated the Kremlin for belatedly doing what the United States did in 1945, the year World War II ended. Not a dime.

It wouldn't have cost even a nickel to have beaten the Soviet Union to the punch by talking about a cut in the military forces of the United States. But it would have taken imaginationand in the battle for men's minds imagination is the forgotten weapon, as far as the United States is concerned.

Inside Labor

This article wa prepared by associates of Victor Riesel in colaboration with him. Mr. Riesel, blinded by acid thrown in his face April 5, by a crminal to still his voice and blunt his pen, told newsmen at a hospital news conference Thursday that he would be back at his office and typewriter within a week.

The million and a quarter Soviet sad-sacks now being peled off the Red Army and shipped back into factory work are nothing more script s lave labor. They are already being filled in on

than con-

against us. This semidemobilization is no step toward disarmament. It is a desperate tactic resulting from the almost total breakdown in production inside the "workers' paradise." Documents made available to me prove that the new collective cult in the Kremlin has been caught with its plants down.

War and peace production quotas are unfulfilled. Discontent among workers is rampant. Special campaigns have been launched by local commissars against "laggers who fail to maintain production quotas,"

OFFICIALS of the so - called unions in the USSR have just been sharply rapped on the knuckles for 'failing to raise 'norms' and failing to spread the advanced methproductivity.

The union officers were bluntly warned that, "The trade union or- federation of Free Trade Unions ganizers must by their personal in Brussels from July 2 to 7. example, exercise influence among the masses and raise the levels of socialist competition (Soviet of the most highly respected figdouble - talk for increased production efforts). not less than 60 per cent in industry, at least 52 per cent in construction and approximately 34 per cent in railway transportation."

Small wonder the Kremlin is stripping additional workers from the army ranks. They are needed now to weld together a new war apparatus. And they can also be used to help quell growing discontent among Soviet workers.

The highly - disciplined, carefully trained Red army men will be used to replace "aktivs" - local officials - in the trade unions at plants that have failed to meet speeded up production schedules.

THEY WILL THEN be able to head off open dissatisfaction with what one Soviet union paper described - in a fit of reckless criticism that the late editor's family has no doubt long since regretted - as "poor ventilation. lighting and heating of production premises, unusable work clothes of poor quality, inadequate housing facilities and poor food in obsolete self - service cafeterias and canteens."

One man who is not fooling himself about the real purpose of the shift of Red Army personnel from natty uniforms to shoddy mufti, is George Meany, outspoken president of the AFL-CIO.

Mr. Meany has been a special target of the Soviet propagandists for his unremitting fight against Communist conspiracy and for his constant refusal to send American labor delegations to Russia.

Mr. Meany plans to sound off against this slave labor from a world platform. He will take his ods of labor that led to higher campaign to Brussels at the annual meeting of the Consultative Council of the International Con-

tion with underthings.

I feel confident the basic element of the preoccupation always has been misunderstood. It is not a crusade for sex, with the crusaders using unmentionables as banners. That is a careless and superficial deduction drawn by persons who do not understand the boredom of the student mind after it had been held to the grindstone of dry knowledge so long that relief becomes imperative.

In other times, boredom popped its gussets in other ways. Student riots in springtime are as old as the pursuit of academic knowledge. They are no more mysterious in origin than the excessive and misguided exuberance of sailors who are given shore leave after months of drudgery at sea. The cure, therefore, obviously would be some diversion that could be prearranged by college authority and held in check by advance

Or it would be in any event something that would not bring down on college students each spring the moral opprobrium directed against college students who blow off steam by panty plunderbunds.

The number involved in this activity is tiny compared with the hundreds of thousands of students who resist the temptation to run amuck, but as always the misbehaving minority gives the majority a black eye.

At my little college many years ago, there usually was an epidemic of springtime fires. No one could prove they were not of accidental origin, but they alwas broke out in worthless buildings, and the nearly always broke out at the right time to provide a midnight saturnalia that lit the sky.

The only fire-fighting equipment volunteers, encouraged by the piping screams of co-eds, who could rely on being wet down by an errant flip of the fire hose.

When the blaze had been quenched, everybody was exhausted and the incident was closed, except for settlements in and out of court and in and out of the dean's

A great many buildings which should have been torn down were burned down, instead, and the net effect of the practice was to clean up the town.

Student strikes of one and two days' duration also were common. They were riskier, because they

Springtime boredom is not confined to college campuses, but it's harder to organize a mob where there is no common identity and no tradition to follow. However, anyone with sociological curiosity can dwell with profit on what happens each year over Memorial Day, to get some insight into the way the American public blows of steam . . . something like a medieval May Day, but with two-ton automobiles to limber up the ac-

On second thought, theorizing about the cause and cure of panty raids by college students is a waste of time. There are more serious problems to take under advisement. How's Grace Kelly getting along?

Ungrateful Indonesia

By DAVID LAWRENCE

President Sukarno of Indonesia is a likable person, but his speech to a joint session of Congress was atonishing for what it omitted.

even a brief mention of the biggest menace to in dependence of Indonesia itself namely, the p o tential threat of an aggressor coalition comprising Soviet Russia and Red

China. it conceivable that Mr. Sukarno purposely avoided all reference to the Communists and talked about political independence and how foreign aid should be granted his country without realizing that the whole Western world is gravely concerned about the military situation in both Europe and Asia?

The Indonesian leader is confronted by 39 Communists in his parliament, and there is infiltration by the Communists in the other political parties, too. In fact, money from Red China financed the campaign of the Communists in the recent elections in Indonesia Yet it is clear from Mr. Sukar-no's speech that he has swallowed hook, line and sinker the Communist claim that America seeks to interfere in the internal affairs of his country when it grants aid.

UNFORTUNATELY, too many so-called "liberals" in America and others who have been guilty of petty partisanship have criticized their own government by echoing this same Communist line not only as to Indonesia but other lands as well.

What could America posibly want of Indonesia except the new nation's own best interests - defense against the aggression of Communist Russia and Communist China? If Malaya goes Communist. the Soviets can soon begin to seize face, skip this. portions of Indonesia. The new re-

Mr. Sukarno reveals his distrust of the West in the following parafreedom and graph of his speech:

"The approach to the question of foreign aid should be based upon different principles in different countries. Military facts are not erased by wishful thinking, and it begins to look as if those in this country who are opposing foreign aid now will have a very valid argument presented to them by the Sukarno speech. People who know fine cars are changing to Lincoln

More fine car buyers are changing to Lincoln this year than ever before in Lincoln's entire history—because they recognize that this longest, lowest, most powerful Lincoln of all time is unmistakably . . . the finest in the fine car field.

Naturally, most of these people are turning to Lincoln because of its fresh, trend-setting new styling. But after owning Lincoln, they . praise this car's other fine qualities.

They tell us-time and time again-about Lincoln's exceptional handling ease. They're surprised that such a big, roomy car can be so effortless to drive-and that wives actually prefer this Lincoln over the family's smaller car.

They tell us about Lincoln's outstanding performance, too-in dozens of ways. Those who have never experienced Turbo-Drive are astonished to find that an automatic transmission can be so smooth . . . and those who take long trips say that this Lincoln makes the ride seem so much shorter.

And they tell us about roadability. They like the way Lincoln rides so firmly through a curve-and the freedom of taking any road they choose . . . instead of avoiding the bad ones.-

If you've been thinking this is your kind of fine car, stop in and see us. We'll put a new Lincoln at your disposal any time you say.

Once again the engineers who design and build. America's cars choose Blue Sunoco as their favorite over all other gasolines

We recently invited a large group of automotive engineers to try New 1956 Blue Sunoco, boosted in octane, in their own cars and give us their reactions. The results of this survey compiled by an independent firm of certified public accountants make Blue Sunoco the favorite. Of the 1,166 engineers who reported, 43% told us they were already users of our gasoline-a far greater number than reported using all other premium gaso-
